The Story of Prophet Ibrahim's Sacrifice

Prophet Ibrahim (Abraham) was tested by Allah in many ways. One of his biggest tests was when Allah asked him to sacrifice what was most dear to him. This story teaches us about obedience, faith, and trust in Allah.

Allah was pleased with Ibrahim's willingness to obey. Instead of sacrificing Ismail, Allah provided a ram (male sheep) to sacrifice instead.

Ibrahim told Ismail about his dream. Ismail was a brave boy who also loved Allah. He told his father to follow Allah's command.

Prophet Ibrahim had a son named Ismail whom he loved very much. Ibrahim was grateful to Allah for blessing him with a son in his old age.

One night, Ibrahim had a dream. In this dream, Allah asked Ibrahim to sacrifice what was most dear to him. Ibrahim knew this meant his son Ismail.

Ibrahim took his son to the place of sacrifice. He laid Ismail down and prepared to follow Allah's command, though it was very difficult for him.

When Ibrahim was about to sacrifice his son, Allah stopped him! A voice called out, "O Ibrahim! You have fulfilled the dream!"

Every year during Eid al-Adha, Muslims remember this story by sacrificing an animal and sharing the meat with family, friends, and those in need.
